Description: As part of our program evaluation, we survey students to measure progress in digital skills, self-expression, confidence, leadership skills, and knowledge of civic activism and advocating for social justice causes. In the last 12 months, participating students had increased confidence to express themselves and work in a group and increased media art software and digital tech skills. We have built deeper relationships with our partner organizations which uniquely positions GBYM to serve our constituents. We built a network of service providers who know the students we serve and provide valuable input to our programming through these partnerships.
